DIHE Celebrates Republic Day with Zeal & Enthusiasm

Patriotic songs, dances, poetry recitation and speech makes Flag Hoisting an exciting event for the students.....

Republic Day marks a pivotal event in Indian history-the day when the Constitutionof India came into effect on January 26,1950. It symbolizes Indias transition from aBritish Dominion to a republic, signifyingsovereignty and the establishment of a democratic government. The day is celebrated across the nation with great patriotism and fervor.Celebrations on this day are diverse yet united by the common thread of national pride.IMS Noida resonated with the fervor of patriotism as faculty members, students, and staff gathered to commemorate India's 73rd Republic Day. The ceremony commenced with the hoisting of the national flag by the esteemed Head of the Department, SUMIT AGGARWAL, accompanied by the HOD of PGDM, amidst a backdrop of patriotic melodies.The event unfolded with insightful speeches delivered by faculty members,enlightening students about the significanceof Republic Day and honoring the sacrificesmade by our brave soldiers. Students,deeply moved by the spirit of nationalism,took to the stage to recite poignant shayariand perform soul-stirring renditions, paying homage to the valiant souls who have laid down their lives for the nation's integrity. Adding to the ambiance of pride and unity,various cultural activities were organized, including thematic skits portraying the journey of India towards freedom and its evolution as a sovereign republic. The celebration culminated with a pledge to uphold the principles of democracy, equality, and justice, resonating with the aspirations of the founding fathers of the nation. The students also decorated the campus with flags and slogan written on chartpaper the he faculty and staff sang the National Anthem with the spirit of social companionship and pledged to abide by the cons tion and keep the great heroes forever in our heartwho sacrificed their lives for the freedom and protection of our country. Students and faculty later enjoyed and distributed sweets among the participants.

MESSAGE FROM CHAIRMAN SIR

Happiness is a virtue that truly comes from within. Some rich people may be unhappy while some poor people may be very happy. Some people are happy although they don't have everything and while some others are unhappy although they have numerous things. Happiness is an internal state of feeling for human beings that is invariably independent of the external factors. It means that one can be happy without having everything. Many people make the mistake of looking for external factors to remain happy. They try to change everything around them in order to feel happy but in the end they find that they are still feeling the same. The changing or accepting the real causes of unhappiness can make one become happy. Going for small temporary changes like traveling or buying new clothes will have a temporary effect. We must try to search happiness within ourselves. "Internal sources of happiness" start with small things. Living life in an appreciative and humble way while moving away from seeking external acceptance and from pursuing prestige, will lead to more "internal sources of happiness". Life is inherently uncertain, and it's up to us to choose the things we like. It is important to be alright with this and to let go off our fears. Absence of worry becomes a nurturing force which allows us to be creative. If we accept a life full of uncertainty, fewer worries, creativity, humility and emotional roller coasters, then our path may become full of joy and meaning.

Students Visit Oldage Home

The event aimed to foster a sense of community, honor the contributions of senior citizens, and spread joy and happiness on this significant national holiday. Following activities were done; Firstly all the volunteers gave their introduction and had a talk with the elder citizens residing in the old age home. After that, the decoration team decorated the whole place with balloons and flags which created a sense of pride and nationalism. Then various cultural performances were given by the volunteers i.e. reciting patriotic songs and poetries. Everyone their sung together. Engaging discussions and interactive sessions were organized to encourage meaningful exchanges between the generations, allowing them to share their life experiences, wisdom, and stories of the independence struggle. At last, a video message was recorded in which all residents there gave a small message for our generation. Impact and Reflections: The celebration of Republic Day with the residents of the old age home was a heartwarming and enriching experience for both the visitors and the elderly residents. It fostered a sense of empathy and respect for the elders. It was a memorable experience. The students who visited the oldage home pledged to pay visits to such organisations during their lifetime .

Two Dead After Ceiling Grill Falls at Galaxy Blue Sapphire Mall in Greater Noida

Two men died after an iron ceiling grill fell on them at Greater Noida's Galaxy Blue Sapphire Mall on Sunday. The victims died on the spot after being struck by the falling ceiling grill which fell from the fifth floor. The incident took place when they were moving towards the escalator. ADCP Central Hridesh Katheria said that the victims, aged around 35, belonged to Vijaynagar, Ghaziabad, and were walking towards the escalator when the accident happened. He added that the ceiling was there for fencing which suddenly fell from the fifth floor. Katheria said the families of the victims have been contacted and legal action would be initiated in the case once a complaint is received from them. The police also took the bodies for postmortem.

I EMERGED VICTORIOUS

In fields of green, where battles are seen,
I stood tall, my spirit pure and clean.
The enemy army, with weapons in hand,
Did not stand a chance , as I took the stand.
With courage in my heart and a will to win,
I defeated the foe, my spirit within.
Their army fell, their weapons did break,
And I emerged victorious, my spirit awake.

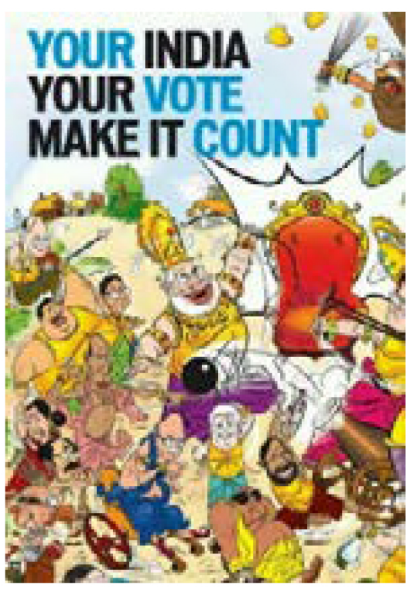

Their loss was great, their fate sealed,
But my victory, it was all revealed.
I stood tall, my spirit unbroken,
And my name, it was forever spoken.
The people cheered, my heart full of pride,
For I had defeated the enemy inside.
The lose was gone, the wine was mine,
And I emerged victorious, all divine.

तो जीना जिंदगी...

बुझ जाते हैं दीप सारे आँधियों में,
बुझ के भी जलने का हो हौसला
तो जीना जिंदगी...
मिलती नहीं जीत जिंदगी के हर मोड़ पे,
हार के भी जीतने का हो हौसला
तो जीना जिंदगी...
आज से ही कल का निर्माण होगा
आज में ही जीने का हो हौसला
तो जीना जिंदगी...
जीवन एक हिमखंड सा पिघलता ही जायेगा,
वक़्त के साथ पिघलने का हो हौसला

REPUBLIC DAY

India celebrated its 75th republic day on 26th junuary 2024 marking the adoption of the constitution on this day in 1950. This years republic day cetebrattOn was graced by the presence of French president Emmanuel Macron i15 the chief guest. The theme for this year's republic day was •vitsit Bharat"' and •Bharat Loktantra kMatruka•. The theme recognised India's aspirations and its rote in strengthening democracy. The celebrattOns as usual started with the PrHident unfurling the national flag followed by the spectacut&r display of the Republic Day parade at thICartavya path. This year's parade was a witness to the maiden partteipation of an all-women's service contingent marching down the Ka.rtavya path. Republic Day is celebrated in India every year on 26th January. This day marts apivotal movement in Indian histo,y as it monurnentalizes the adoption of India'sconstitution. In 1950 it was on 26 January that India was finally free from the colonial administration and upheld the valu~ of sovereignty giving India the stat\of a republic. India gained its independence on 15th August 1947 from the British rule. FotlowiniIndia's independence began the mas. sive task of comin1 up with an effective constitution to maintain the country's I.aw and order. To tumt the tast the constituent assembly was fOfmed to write a constitution for independent India. T assembly was Indirectly elected under the cabinet mission pl.an of 1946. There were 389 members who were part of the assembly however post partition the number came down to 229 as a few members went to Pakistan. Dr Rajendra Prasad was electe-d as the President of the committtt while Harendra Coomar Mooterjee was elected as iu vice presider,t. Or BR Ambedkar was the chairman ofthe drafting committee. The usembly carried out rigorous debates and discussio1for 11 sessions that stretched across 2 years ll months and 17 days. The final document of the constitution had 22 parts 395 articles and 8 schedules. The constitution was passed and adopted by the assembly on 26th November 1949. 11came into force on 26th January 1950. Dr BR AmbedW is considered the chief architect of the Indian constitution. The Indian constitution is the longest-existing constitution of any sovereign nation in the world providing a comprehensive framework to govern the country with social, cultural and religious diversity. The preamble to the constitution declares India to be a sovereign, socialist. secular, democratic, republic and a welfare state committed to securing justice, liberty and equality for the people and for promotin1 fraternity, dignity of the individual, unity and integrity of the nation. These values are IA.id dOwn in the preamble to the constitution which cannot be amended. Till date, 105 amend menu have been made to the constitution. The first amendment which happened in 1951 added reasonable restrictions to freedom of speech. Another remarkable amendment is the 42nd amendment which happened in 1976 included the terms sociaht and secular in the preamble and granted more powers to the government during emergencies. The recently updated constitution has 448 articles in 25 paru and 12 schedules. Among the constant con mets and changing dynamtes of geopoliti~t and economic relations of countries with each other, the constitution of India has provided the country with a strong backbone to ensure the weU·being of the citizens and a smooth administration. The Indian constitution stands st1on1 as a pillar of a concrete democracy in India.

MOVIE REVIEW

12th FAIL : The movie 12th fall depicts• powerful portrayal of real-life struggles that people face during the preparation of exams like UPSC. The director, Vidhu Vinod Chopra directed the film in such a gracious manner that it sheds light on the journey of underprivileged individuals who are aspiring to attain higher education and pave a way towards their dreams and aspirations.

Many people including myself have been motivated to do what you love and excel in the subject i choose. It guides us through the ups and downs making the little details relatable. All the actors have given their best at portraying the characters in a beautiful and elegent manner.

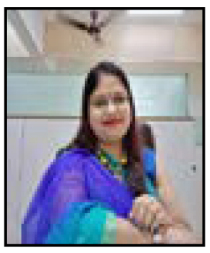

What truly makes 12th fail a cinematic gem is its ability to leave a lasting impact on its audience. This is a film that strikes the balance between artistic excellence and a geneuine experience. It Is an awesome inspiration for people who have lost hope,especially students.

The Double-Edged Sword: Examining the Ethics of AI and Data in Journalism

Dr Vijayta Taneja, Associate Professor
DIHE Noida Extension

The rise of artificial intelligence (AI) anddata has profoundly impacted numerous industries, and journalism is no exception.While these tools offer tremendous potential for efficiency, insight, and reach, their integration raises crucial ethical questions that demand careful consideration. This article delves into the complex landscape of AI and data in journalism, exploring both the benefits and the ethical concerns that must be addressed. One of the most significant advantages of AI in journalism is its ability to automate repetitive tasks like data analysis, fact-checking, and content creation. This frees up journalists' time for more nuanced reporting, in-depth investigations, and human-centric storytelling, ultimately enriching the quality of journalism. Additionally, AI can analyze vast amounts of data to identify hidden patterns and trends, leading to groundbreaking stories and deeper public understanding. Furthermore, AI-powered personalization tools can cater content to individual preferences, expanding accessibility and fostering engagement. However, the benefits of AI and data come with ethical caveats that journalists must navigate cautiously. Chief among these concerns is the potential for bias. AI algorithms learn from the data they are trained on, and if that data is biased, the AI will perpetuate those biases in its outputs.

This can lead to discriminatory reporting, inaccurate conclusions, and the reinforcement of harmful stereotypes. Journalists must be vigilant in choosing unbiased datasets, understanding how algorithms work, and critically evaluating the outputs of AI tools. Another ethical concern is transparency. When AI is used to generate content or make editorial decisions, it's crucial for the audience to be aware of its involvement. Failing to disclose the use of AI erodes trust and undermines the journalistic principle of transparency. Furthermore, the potential for AI-generated misinformation poses a significant threat. Deepfakes and other manipulated media can easily spread disinformation, blurring the lines between truth and fiction. Journalists must play a crucial role in countering this and educating the public on media literacy.

Several organisations in India like Data Leads, Vishwas News have initiated media litreacy initiatives for the people.

Mathematics Education in the Digital Era

Mini Verma, Assistant Professor
DIHE Noida Extension

Mathematics education has undergone significant changes in the digital era, as technologyhas become increasingly integrated into classrooms and learning environments. The digitalera has brought about new opportunities and challenges for mathematics education, and educators have been working to catch up with these advancements. Mathematics education has been greatly influenced by the advancements in digital technologies. These technologies have opened up new possibilities for teaching and learning mathematics, providing educators and students with tools and resources that enhance the learning experience.

1. Embracing Technology: One way mathematics education is catching up in the digital era is by embracing technology in the classroom. This includes the use of digital tools, software, and online resources to enhance teaching and learning experiences. Technology can provide interactive and engaging learning opportunities, allowing students to explore mathematical concepts in a more dynamic and visual way.

2. Access to Educational Technologies: Despite the plethora of educational technologies available, mathematics education is still catching up in fully utilizing them. There is a need for educators and institutions to explore and adopt various educational technologies that can support student learning and provide opportunities for extra practice and catch-up .

3. Professional Development: To ensure effective implementation of technology in mathematics education, professional development plays a crucial role. Teachers need to be equipped with the necessary skills and knowledge to integrate technology into their teaching practices.

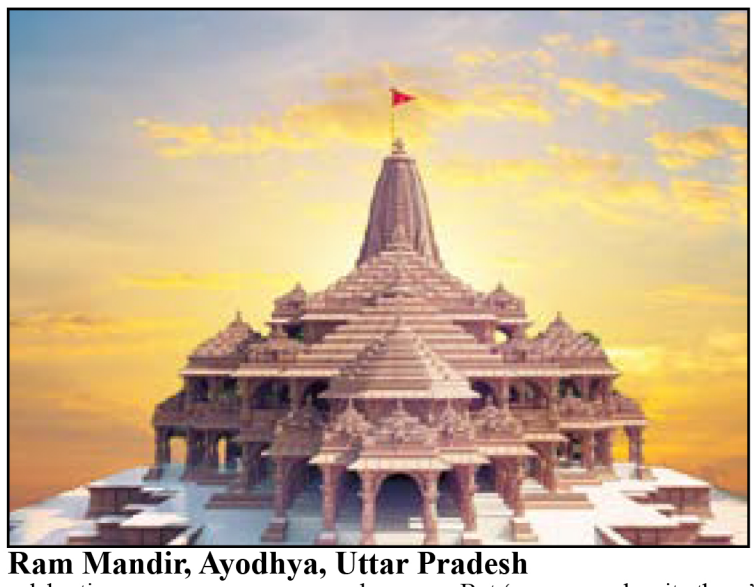

4. Virtual Manipulative Digital tools

provide virtual manipulatives that allow students to explore mathematical concepts visually and interactively. Virtual manipulatives can help students develop a deeper understanding of abstract math concepts, such as fractions & geometry.

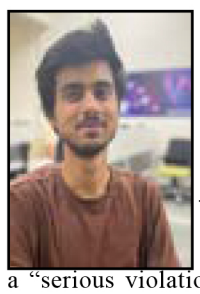

Ram Mandir Inauguration: A Landmark Moment Amidst Controversy and Celebration

Ram Mandir ceremony: The Ram Lalla idol was unveiled at the Pran Pratishtha ceremony attended by PM Modi, RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat and Uttar Pradesh CM Yogi Adityanath. Here's all that happened amid Ayodhya Ram Temple inauguration.

Karan Singh Gahlot

Ram Mandir, Ayodhya, Uttar Pradesh

Last week on Monday 22 January, 2024 marked the historical inauguration of Ayodhya's Ram Mandir which the nation had waited for decades. The occasion is widely seen as a culmination of Hindu majoritarian and political demands led by the ruling Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) and its affiliates. The temple was constructed around the site where the 16th century Babri Mosque stood until a Hindu mob demolished it in 1992. The Supreme Court verdict that handed over the disputed land in Ayodhya to the Hindu petitioners had also unambiguously noted that the demolition of Babri Masjid on December 6, 1992, by kar sevaks was a "serious violation of law". The long-awaited Pran Pratishtha ceremony of Ram Lalla took place in the presence of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, RSS Chief Mohan Bhagwat and several other numbers of VVIPs from whole across the nation. Pran Pratishtha, literally translating to "Establishment of life force," is a Hindu ceremony where an idol of a deity is consecrated andar transformed from a mere figure into a vessel of divine energy. Through mantras, offerings, and meticulous rituals, the "Pran," or life force, of the deity is invoked and infused into the idol, rendering it capable of receiving prayers and bestowing blessings upon devotees. This ocassion has braught substantial exhilaration and enthusiasm among the people of India and the devotees whole around the world of Lord Rama. Everyone is celebrating the 'Ram Mandir Prana Pratishtha' in thier own unique ways. It is so beautiful to see the whole nation cheering and celebrating over a same cause and the excitement of the homecoming of Ram Lalla isn't bounded within the borders of India. According to Dr Pravin Kendrekar, who lives in South Africa, Hindus living in 52 different countries were approached to connect them emotionally to the cultural and spiritual significance of Ayodhya's momentous event. Prime Minister Narendra Modi led the rituals of Ram Mandir and unvieled the idol of Ram Lalla carved out of black stone and said that Ram Lalla will now stay in a grand temple and not in a tent any more.Addressing the first Mann Ki Baat broadcast of the year, Modi also said that the governance of Lord Ram was a source of inspiration for Constitution makers. He said,"January 22, 2024, is not just a date, but the beginning of a new era. The construction of Ram Mandir has filled people with new energy" and it is not deniable that the whole nation felt an essesnce of a festival on this occasion keen to Diwali. The grand temple will not just attract pilgrims towards Ayodhya but will also bring a surge in tourism that will create jobs opportunities for both Hindus and Muslims and will ultimately contribute a major part in the town's economy. But 'every rose has its thorn', on a day before Pran Pratishtha Hindu religious processions in India have turned violent when triumphalism transforms into provocation and violence. While the event passed peacefully, the previous day a group of men in Madhya Pradesh state shouted religious Slogans, climbed atop a Christian church, and affixed a flag representing the new temple to the church's cross. Even though authorities secured the area during the ceremony, Ayodhya's Muslim residents were concerned for their safety due to which Some even sent their families away from the city. Such incidents raises the doubt that whether the establishment of Ram mandir is really a symbol of true faith and hope or people are just hyped because they are conviced that only their religion is supreme over the other's.

However the exceptional limelight on the Bhartiya Janta PartY(BJP) will help them to score votes in 2024 Lok sabha elections while on the other hand the opposition will now have to face challenges to fight against such a strong party.

Journalism: Beyond Buzzwords, Facing the Facts

Richa Chandi, Assistant Professor
DIHE Noida Extension

In an age where information floods our screens with dizzying speed, journalism stands as a lighthouse, navigating the currents of truth and falsehood. But what does it truly mean to be a journalist in the 21st century? This profession, more than just a career choice, is a calling — a relentless pursuit of facts, a championing of voices, and a guardian of a democratic society. There are many different types of journalism, each with its own unique focus. Some of the most common types include:

News journalism: This is the type of journalism that most people think of when they hear the word "journalist." News journalists report on current events, from local politics to international conflicts.

Investigative journalism: This type of journalism involves in-depth reporting on complex issues. Investigative journalists often work to uncover wrongdoing or expose hidden truths.

Sports journalism: This type of journalism focuses on the world of sports. Sports journalists report on games, athletes, and teams.

Entertainment journalism: This type of journalism covers the entertainment industry, including movies, music, and television.

Business journalism: This type of journalism covers the world of business and finance. Business journalists report on companies, markets, and the economy. The bedrock of journalism rests on ethics. Accuracy, objectivity, and accountability are not mere guidelines; they are the very fabric of truth-telling. A journalist delves into the complex tapestry of events, verifying sources, cross-referencing information, and exposing biases. They are the bridge between the powerful and the marginalized, giving voice to the voiceless and holding power to account. However, the path is not paved with awards and bylines. Long hours, tight deadlines, and the ever-present pressure of "getting it right" can be daunting. Navigating the emotional toll of witnessing human suffering and dealing with online vitriol requires resilience and empathy. Yet, it is also this very intensity that makes journalism so compelling. Witnessing history unfold firsthand, uncovering injustices, and sparking public discourse about critical issues — these are the rewards that transcend a paycheck. The landscape of journalism itself is in flux. Traditional print media faces new challenges, while digital platforms have democratized access to information, but also brought concerns about misinformation and "fake news." This demands not just adaptability, but constant learning. Journalists today must master new tools, embrace multimedia storytelling, and navigate the ever-evolving digital ecosystem. So, why choose journalism? It's not for the faint of heart, nor for those seeking fame and fortune. It's for the curious minds who crave the truth, for the compassionate souls who champion justice, and for the fearless voices who refuse to be silenced. It's for those who believe that a well-informed public is the cornerstone of a thriving democracy.To be a journalist is to be a witness, a storyteller, and a truth-seeker. It's to be a defender of democracy, a champion of the silenced, and a light in the darkness. It's a profession that demands constant vigilance, unwavering integrity, and an unwavering commitment to the public good. If you find yourself drawn to this path, know that the journey will be challenging, but also deeply rewarding. For in the face of misinformation and injustice, in the din of competing voices, the unwavering pursuit of truth — that is the essence of journalism, and its enduring power.
